Provincial Weekly News Bulletin

(Issued by Publicity Commissioner, Government of Alberta, Edmonton, Premier and Ministers Attend Ottawa Conference)

Alberta will be represented at the interprovincial conference which opens next Thursday, by Premier Brownlee, Hon. George Handley, Minister of Agriculture and Health; Hon. R. G. Reid, Provincial Treasurer and Minister of Municipal Affairs; J. C. Thompson, Provincial Auditor, and R. G. English of the Department of Municipal Affairs.

Among the questions which will come up for consideration at the Ottawa meeting are the revision of federal statutes, the provinces, a reconsideration of the fields of taxation as between the dominion and the provinces, the problem of railway declassification in the Peace River district, the removal of federal aid in highway construction, the division of police administration in the province and a survey of transportation, marketing and storage problems. It is expected that with the wide variety of opinion which will be presented by those in attendance from all parts of the dominion, a solution for many of these important problems may be reached.

Wheat Pool Annual Meeting, November 23
The annual meeting of Alberta Wheat Pool delegates from all sections of the province will be held in Calgary on Wednesday, November 23. An invitation has been sent to pool growers in British Columbia to be represented at this gathering in view of the increasing numbers of farmers in the coast province who have allied themselves with the pool. Any resolutions from local associations dealing with the bylaws of the pool which a delegate wishes to bring before the meeting must reach the pool headquarters in Calgary not later than November 5.

Edmonton Again to Have Normal School
A new normal school, the third provincial teacher-training institution in the province, is to be established in Edmonton in time for the opening of the 1928-29 term, announces Hon. Percival Baker, Minister of Education. Vacant room in some of the city schools will be utilized for the first year, pending the erection of a permanent building for this purpose.

High River Air Station Closes For Winter

The High River air station will be abandoned for the winter and the planes which have been in operation there will be transferred to other points in the Dominion. New planes are expected for the High River station next spring, and these will be employed as formerly on forest patrol service.

Active Lumbering Season Expected In North

Sawmills along the E.D. and B.C. Railway in northern Alberta are expected to turn out approximately 35,000,000 feet of lumber during the coming winter. It is estimated by Edmonton dealers. In addition, other mills in the section of the province north of Red Deer will cut over 100,000,000 feet. Operations it is stated will commence early in November and this work will provide work for some 2,000 men and from 750 to 1,000 teams. Salt Well Being Drilled at McMurray
The test salt well being drilled at McMurray under the direction of the provincial department of railways has reached a depth of over 200 feet, according to the report of the engineers in charge of the project. It is estimated that a depth of about 600 feet is necessary before salt will be struck in any quantity and it is the intention to proceed with drilling until the salt vein is reached.

Elk Flourishing in Brazeau Valley
The test herds of wild elk in the province which have found sanctuary in the valley of the Big Brazeau River, after being practically exterminated in other parts of Alberta, are now rapidly increasing and spreading northward, according to reports from that district. Several large bands have been seen, and the animals appear to be doing well in their new home which is considerably farther north than their usual habitat.

W.C.T.U. MEMBERS SHOW INCREASE

Edmonton, Oct. 29.—That the membership of the Alberta Provincial W.C.T.U. is now 1951, while during the year $5,027.05 has been raised by the different Unions, was an interesting statement brought out by Mrs. T. T. McArthur, of Medicine Hat, corresponding secretary, before the annual convention now meeting here.

Plans for the coming year were discussed at some length and several suggestions will be carried out. It was decided to continue and to develop the work among young people. An intensive membership campaign will be instituted, the goal to be placed at 1500 for 1928. Each Union will be asked to work out a definite plan for the systematic distribution of literature among the members and the community.

It was resolved by the convention to reaffirm its belief in the principle of prohibition as follows: "That the principle of prohibition is the best method yet tried in solving the drink problem; that government sale is wrong in principle and disastrous in practice; that Government sanction of the sale of alcoholic drinks will do much to nullify any educational effort that may be carried out; that Government partnership with the drink trade can only result in political corruption and the degradation of citizenship."

Mrs. William White of Nanton reported an increase in membership over last year of 26 active and 11 honorary members, making a total membership of 460. Subscriptions to the White Ribbon Tides are 307, while the number of L.T.L.'s are 185. Little white ribbons are now 98, while coupons sent for Travelers' Aid are 2668. Six medical committees were held and the amount raised was $1771.51, an increase of $27.09.

It was reported that 20 Unions met their budget. Mrs. R. S. Martin, representing the Edmonton district reported 408 L.T.L.'s and 12 unions, an increase of six over last year, with a newly organized Union at Banff.

Had Kidney Trouble Back Got So Bad Could Not Bend

Mrs. A. Jula, Angle Lake, Alta., writes:—"For two years I was so troubled with my kidneys I could not do my household work."

"I could not sleep at night, and my back got so bad I could not bend."

"A friend came to visit me one day and I told her of my trouble, and she advised me to take Doan's Kidney Pills."

"After using three boxes I got complete relief from my trouble."

million convention held last summer in Vancouver, was given.

It was reported that Alberta and Manitoba were the only provinces that met the budget last year. The banner was won by Ontario with Alberta a close second. The "Y" will be known in future as the Young People's Society and boys will be eligible. Japan has now 22 V.P.S.

A happy event took place Thursday morning, when Mrs. L. C. McKinney, Provincial President, was presented with a lovely diamond and pearl pendant from the Women's Unions of the Province. Mrs. W. T. Ash in making the presentation, stated that in this year of Confederation, the men and women who have pioneered in the building up of national ideals were being honored. "Alberta has been exceptionally fortunate in the number of men and women who have made their contribution to the progress of our Dominion," she concluded.

WOMAN AWARDED $750 FOR SLANDER

Damages of $750 for slanderous statements reflecting upon the character of the plaintiff Tekla Soroka, Daysland farm woman, were awarded by Justice Walsh in the supreme court Friday evening against Mrs. Francis Mickak of that farm neighborhood.

It was before the court three days with numerous witnesses giving testimony through interpreters and the judge found much conflict in the stories. The case was a double-header as besides the $2,000 claimed against the woman defendant, damages of $2,000 were sought against the husband Peto Mickak for slander and libel. His lordship dismissed the case against the man, stating that he found it almost impossible to believe that defendant would make the remarks attributed to him under the circumstances alleged, especially as litigation was pending against his wife.

Swedish Mitt Champion
Will Exhibit Wares Here

Wetaskiwin Sports Association Staging Big Program at the Angus Theatre on Monday, November 21

Motion pictures, boxing bouts and instrumental numbers will be the menu to be dished up to the people of Wetaskiwin and district, by the Wetaskiwin Sports Association, in the Angus Theatre on Monday evening, November 21. All the mitt players from Edmonton who created such a highly favorable impression here at the sports on Labor Day will be back with us again for this occasion. There will be, however, live bouts on the bill of fare, all on a par with the Labor Day offering, including a tilt between Eric Champion of Edmonton, and Harry Peterson, who recently held the 125 lb. amateur championship of Sweden. Besides the ten boxers who are being sent down by the Canadian Legion in Edmonton, there will be four instructors and a number of other visitors. An interesting movie will be shown on the screen and some of the best talent in the city will contribute between bouts. The ladies thoroughly enjoyed the Labor Day bouts, as well as the men, and the gender sex is assured that the offering of the 21st will be well worthy of their patronage, and the activities of the Sports Association merit a crowded house.

RED DEER WILL HAVE STRONG HOCKEY TEAM

Red Deer's chances of winning hockey this season look pretty good last Monday night, when the last of players was gone over and plans for the club were made. While nothing has been definitely settled yet, there will be as strong a team as last year, and one that will make opposing teams step right out to make any wins. It is expected that the team of last year's juniors will be given a chance to show their wares, and should they make the grade, will form a valuable substitution. Messrs. F. Turnbull and E. B. Cumins were chosen as delegates to attend the Big Four annual meeting which will take place noon. Advocate.

CONFUSION OVER
BRITISH BETTING

London, Oct. 31.—The betting community of Great Britain, which comprises a considerable number of the population, is in a state of much agitation. The courts have decided that the fixing of odds for bookmakers at the greyhound race courses is illegal but that actual betting itself is not illegal. The result is confusing in view of the fact that the greyhound race, which is the track itself being illuminated. The surroundings are in semi-darkness so that the decision making it illegal for bookies to maintain fixed positions makes it extremely difficult for the betters to keep in touch with the bookmakers and makes things very easy for scoundrels who find it a very simple process to vanish in the darkness rather than to pay an accumulation of losses.

ALBERTA PRODUCERS
PROTEST HIGH RATES
ON HOGS TO SEATTLE

Calgary, Oct. 29. Before the board of railway commissioners on Friday afternoon widely opposed views were expressed between representatives of livestock organizations and packing interests regarding a new rate on hogs that came into effect in June but between Alberta and Seattle and other American points on the Pacific coast. On the one hand it was contended that without the U.S. buyers the hog industry would materially suffer, while on the other, it was urged by William Innes, of the P. R. R., that the fact that the U.S. buyer only came here when the price suited him to come on the market, whereas his company would hog every day of the year. The position was also taken by W. R. Ingram, of Toronto, that no packer would pay a premium on any market because he wanted to be a "good fellow." Incidentally, not a little information was given on the practice of slipping hogs in double deck cars which came into effect in 1925. It was owing to the advantage that a shipper had by adopting such a method that a change in the rate was instituted.

C. E. Jefferson, assistant freight traffic manager of the Canadian Pacific railway, Winnipeg, read a long statement to the board, and put in a number of exhibits supporting the railway's contention for the increased and the United Kingdom. We are making considerable exports by every boat that goes to Japan and sometimes, said Mr. Innes, "I might tell you that without disclosing the company's business, just for your information, so far as the British market is concerned, it was well over the half million mark last month. This is not a small amount in a market which is not 'hot' as he put it, he huffed at the collector.

W. R. Ingram, of the Swift Canadian company, Toronto, told the board that there was no packer who would pay any premium on any market because he wanted to make himself "a good fellow." He said, however, that he had to do to get the raw materials that he needed. "We do the same thing," he said. "Turns also does, and so do all packers. The law of supply and demand governs the movement. When packers come here naturally there is a strong demand for livestock and there is a tendency for prices to increase. It not only happens here but on other markets."

C. Rice Jones, vice president of the United Livestock Growers, said that in spite of the fact that considerable stress had been put on the matter from purely a question of freight rates he could not help but think that the interests of producers should also be considered. He said that about one-third of all the hogs produced in the three prairie provinces were produced north of a line drawn east and west of Carleton Place, Ontario, and that was the district where the heaviest rate increases had been put into effect. It might be said, he continued, that while these rates in the north had increased there had been a reduction in southern Alberta. That was true, but the proportion of hogs raised in southern Alberta was so small compared with the total that the reduction did not amount to anything.

He said he had no doubt it could be proved that double decks of hogs were going to the States prior to 1925 at the single rate, consequently it was hard to understand why the whole matter, if it was unfair, was not dealt with at that time. He said he had no doubt but that conditions pointed to a satisfactory state of the hog industry in that territory but that if they had to depend upon local packers, because they all knew that packers, like every one else, wanted to make money and if there was no competition the price would go down under the law of supply and demand.

CAMROSE BOARD OF TRADE
DISCUSS WINTER ROAD
MACHINERY

Members of the Camrose Board of Trade, with a number of out-of-town guests, totalling about 85, were gathered in the dining room of the Arlington Hotel for a banquet recently. Among the guests were Hon. V. W. Smith, Minister of Railways and Telephones; J. H. Schade, Daysland; H. Delamater and Oscar Jacobs, Killam; C. T. C. Roper, Bittern Lake; S. T. Wetterberg, Bawlf; J. P. Sanders, Charles City, Iowa; D. E. Tanner, Reeve of the Municipality of Leduc; George No. 47, and several members of his Council. Other guests had been expected from more distant points, but unfavorable road conditions had prevented their attendance.

The purpose of the banquet was to bring together the representatives of various organizations and municipalities in the Camrose district for the purpose of considering ways and means of keeping the main highways running during the winter months, so that automobile traffic would be possible throughout the period when snow covered the ground.

Introducing the subject of the maintenance of winter roads for auto travel, Mr. E. V. Kerr, chairman of the Good Roads section of the Camrose Board of Trade, stated that the time had come when consideration must be given to this problem. He stated that other towns were interested in the outcome of the discussion which would be brought out at the banquet, but it was pointed out as conditions varied in different districts, each district would have to work out its own scheme of action to be taken to keep open the winter roads.

It was maintained by Mr. V. E. Forster that a drawn snow plow is not practical, but that a propelled plow is necessary. His discussion of the necessary clearing equipment brought out considerable argument regarding the various types of this class of machinery possible to obtain or build, but the consensus of opinion seemed to favor a crawler type of tractor propelling a one-bladed plow. The roadway should be cleared 12 to 16 feet wide.

A resolution was passed, "That it is desirable of having the main roads leading into Camrose kept open, as far as is possible, during the winter months, and that the meeting pledges its support to a committee to be appointed by the Board of Trade to take charge of the experiment."

The Executive of the Board of Trade was instructed to appoint a finance committee and also an operating committee so as to provide that the matter of winter roads being kept open in the Camrose district become a reality in the future. Ways and means of financing and conducting the work will devolve upon these two committees, and the coming winter will arrange that some definite action has been made toward making auto travel possible at all times in the district. Hon. V. W. Smith very briefly addressed the meeting and complimented the Camrose district as being the first in the province, as far as he knew, to take up the matter of winter roads. He referred to the rapid development of Alberta during the last two or three years, and the necessity of endeavoring to keep pace with that development in respect to road building and road maintenance.

The banquet and program was presided over by George Lowery, president of the Camrose Board of Trade. The chairman intimated that the immediate objective of the meeting was the consideration of winter roads, the matter of better summer roads would not be overlooked by the organization which he represented.—Canadian.

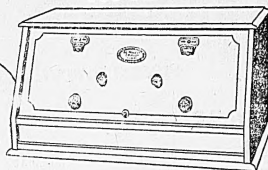

ARE YOU GETTING VALUE?

To some homes a newspaper is a newspaper, and no thought is given to the quality. That rule does not apply when buying house supplies. The best is then wanted, even if it costs more. Why should those homes not be as particular about the reading matter that comes into the family, particularly when the very best can be had at the same price or less than the inferior article. The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal is the acknowledged best value in all Canada. It is a wonderful combination of newspaper and family magazine and a farm journal without an equal on the Continent, and it costs no more than an ordinary country weekly—one dollar a year. Several two pages every week of the school reading for every member of the family at a cost of less than two cents a week should interest every home in Canada. No wonder The Family Herald and Weekly Star is read by a million Canadians each week. It is well worth a trial.

H. E. CHALMERS
Dealer : WetaskiwinMAN CAN SPEAK WITHOUT VOCAL CORDS AFTER OPERATION

New York, Oct. 29.—A "mechanical larynx," which enables United States Senator T. Coleman DuPont to speak, notwithstanding an operation in which his vocal cords were removed, was reported by the New York World.

Dr. John E. McKenty, senior surgeon of the Manhattan Eye, Ear and Throat hospital, who performed the operation, involving removal of the vocal cords, larynx and part of the tongue and windpipe, is renowned for his technique in throat cancer operations.

The device which was said to save the senator from the penalty of dumbness that once resulted from such an operation as his, is simple, resembling and but little more conspicuous than an underslung pipe from the bowl of which a tube extends to an artificial throat opening. The pipe bowl contains the artificial larynx. Air from the lungs passes through the tube to the bowl and thence to the mouth through the pipe-stem, held in the teeth. A tone is emitted by the man-made larynx and is modified much as in normal speech by the lips, teeth tongue and palate.

MRS. MCKINNEY AGAIN HEADS PROVINCIAL TEMPERANCE WORKERS

Mrs. Louise C. McKinney, was elected president of the provincial W.C.T.U., for the fifteenth consecutive year at Thursday's session of the convention at First Baptist Church. Other officers elected for the coming year were vice-president, Mrs. Wm. White of Nanton; corresponding secretary, Mrs. T. McPherson of Holden; treasurer, Mrs. J. I. Poole of Wetaskiwin; "Y" secretary, Mrs. D. J. Lonsberry of Lethbridge, and L.T.L. secretary, Mrs. H. S. Martin of Edmonton. Following the return to office of the president, Mrs. McKinney, Mrs. W. T. Ash, on behalf of unions throughout the province, presented her with a beautiful pearl pendant.

The secretary read the report of the medical temperance convener, Mrs. W. Jones, of Hanna, who was unable to be present. The report of Mrs. Helen of Didsbury, on Travelers' Aid work showed a growing interest in this activity, with the steady arrival of new Canadians. In many towns trails are being met by the W.C.T.U. Travelers' Aid, and assistance is being given to young girls and women, while in the larger cities the unions are extending support to the work already being carried on by the Y.W.C.A.

TEMPERANCE WORKERS HAVE MANY BATTLES AHEAD

Manville, Alta. (Edmonton Journal correspondence).—Mrs. C. L. McKinney, the provincial president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, addressed a well attended meeting in Manville on Saturday evening. The speaker said that there were three human qualities that supported the liquor traffic: appetite, avarice, and the lack of the temperance forces is to carry out a program of education, combatting these three things. The temperance movement started because some men saw that alcohol produced drunkenness, but now science has taught us how it does it. Science has also shown that drinking paralyzes a weakened nervous system.

Don't dose a Child's Cold

CONTINUAL dosing upsets children's delicate stomachs. Vicks is applied externally and therefore cannot disturb the digestion. It acts in two ways:
(1) The body heat releases the ingredients in the form of vapors which are inhaled.
(2) At the same time Vicks "draws out" the soreness like a poultice.

VICKS VAPORUB OVER 18 MILLION JARS USED YEARLY

to their offspring, thus the vitality of the race is undermined and the appetite for alcohol is perpetuated.

Under the second heading, the speaker said that men were not engaging in the liquor traffic because alcohol was good for the race, but because it was a paying proposition. It paid the distillers and brewers of Europe to spend large sums of money to make the prohibition law of the United States ineffective, and they were doing it, and they would continue to do it unless the temperance people shook off their apathy and become concerned with the situation. The speaker said: "The battles we have fought are less than those we have to fight," and called upon the members for increased educational work.

THE HARVESTER

(By Kathleen Redman Strange)

Almost any day now you can see them, each man burdened with his bulky roll, slipping off the train at some little prairie town centre. On dull days the sidewalks in the small towns are alive with them—little groups of men of all ages and walks in life, standing about waiting for some farmer to come along looking for a man. Then follows the prospect of regular hours of work day after day (so long as the benignant sun deigns to shine upon the fields) till the last kernel of grain has been garnered into the waiting bins and the season is at an end.

Men are swarming to the prairies at this time of the year from the east and from the west; each train bears its quota. They represent almost every trade and profession—lawyers, doctors, clerks, writers, builders, carpenters, mechanics, the professional "bums," the out-of-work, the drifters, the experience-seekers, the men who own farms of their own but who have suffered some misfortune such as hail or drought—all of them seeking work in the prairie grain fields.

The stories behind these men range all the way from pathos to bathos.

They are the Toms and Dicks, the Johns and Jacks, the Bills and Charlies—generally you never learn their proper names until it comes time to pay them off—the young men, the old men, the tall men, the short men, the lean men, the fat men, the workers, the shirkers, each and every man with his eye upon the harvest.

Every man, on our own farm, our regular staff is supplemented by several extra hands at harvest time. During the past seven years at least a hundred men have passed through our farm and many indeed have been the experiences, amusing, interesting, pathetic, and sometimes even tragic, that have been connected with them.

Harvest is lustrous. You ring up your nearest town and say you need a man, two men, three men. And usually, on the next train, down they come. Some fellows always go around in pairs—often the most incongruous couples—a very tall man and a little short stumpy man; a grizzled, white-haired oldtimer and a port sprightly youngster. Heaven knows where they first made up together. You never have the slightest idea what kind of men you are going to get. Of course, there is no such thing as a reference in this kind of work. You just have to take your chance. Usually we stipulated that the men must be clean and decent-looking, because they have to live with us.

Some of the harvesters come back to one's place year after year. There is one fellow, a highly entertaining little French-Canadian, who comes back to us every fall as soon as the harvest is at hand. Lorenz is a splendid worker, highly efficient, indefatigable. He is always good-natured, invariably cracking jokes, unfailingly popular with the other men. At night time he keeps the bunkhouse in roars of laughter. He has endless tales to tell of the north woods, of moose and caribou, of bear and buffalo, of logging camp and timber mill. He talks incessantly in his fascinating broken English, sing-song, sing-song, and the boys fall asleep to the echo of his laughter.

ALL through its long, successful history, General Motors of Canada has had its eye to the horizon listening not for what followed, but looking always toward the thing ahead.

And General Motors has seen many of its visions realized. . . .

It has seen a great industry grow up in Canada to supply the Canadian family with a means of transportation to meet its needs and resources, to answer the desire for style, dependability, luxury.

It has seen, in the Canadian Fisher Body plants, the perpetuation of Canadian ideals of craftsmanship.

It has seen, in the General Motors Research Laboratories, the development of countless advances and refinements on which much of modern motoring comfort depends.

It has seen, on the General Motors Proving Grounds, the proof of principles which are now accepted factors in automobile design and construction.

It has seen the triumph of co-operative purchasing and manufacturing methods with their resultant economies to be shared with the buyers of General Motors cars.

And the eyes of General Motors are still to the horizon . . . still seeking new ways to improve General Motors cars and to place the cars within reach of ever-widening circles of Canadian buyers.

When it comes to the green man. His movements are jerky; he is tucked out before the day is nearly done, you can tell that his muscles are simply screaming in rebellion at the unfamiliar strain. Our experience is that it takes at least three seasons to make a man a real harvester, worthy of the high wages that are usually paid. It has always seemed to us that some sort of a sliding scale of wages might profitably be evolved for harvesting, whereby a man would be paid according to his ability and experience. This would certainly be fairer from the employers' point of view and would be no hardship on the man for he would at least receive the wages he deserved.

EQUAL TO THE OCCASION

He came tripping merrily into his tiny hall one day, and almost fell, stumbling upon someone's rubbers left lying about.

"Whose ferry boats are those in the hall?" he asked, angrily, when he entered the drawing room.

"Ferry boats!" exclaimed his mother-in-law, indignantly. "Why those are my rubbers. Ferry boats, indeed!"

"My dear, good man," he said hurriedly, "who said ferry boats? You misunderstood. I said fairy boats—you know fairy boats!"

And then he went out and wiped the cold sweat from his brow.

MY IDEAL U. F. W. A.

(By Lillian A. Myers, Bue Moor)

First of all, my ideal farm woman's association must be united, while at the same time its members must retain their individuality. We have all different ways of looking at life, and each of our points of view may be right, although no two of them are alike. The great thing is to realize that each viewpoint is helpful and necessary if we would get a broad outlook on things that interest us as a group.

If we are to get the most out of our meetings and the best out of our members, we must each be willing to give some fresh thought—for after all it is a poor meeting in which we do not give or gain some benefit.

Take a very common illustration. Particles of flour, in themselves, are not of much use, and a spoonful of them can make quite a big mess on a newly-washed floor, but blend with the flour particles of salt and certain liquids and we have a compact mass which has in it the possibility of good bread; so we, individually, may not be able to accomplish much, but if we are bound together by unity of purpose, we may be very useful to our community and our country.

"The great world in our organization is co-operation," which means much more than simply combining in a body to sell grain or eggs, or poultry, through a pool. It means working together all the time—not only when seasons are good, prices high, and everything is in our favor, but also when we have no crops, and when our association seems to be on the losing side, and when our antagonists are laughing at our efforts.

It is at these times that my ideal U.F.W.A. rises to its heights. It does not lose enthusiasm, but rather makes a special effort to generate more power and stability, and, forgetting all differences of opinion or petty disagreements on other matters, it presents an intelligent and united front for all that the association means.

My ideal U.F.W.A. also keeps in close touch with headquarters, making, if needs be, a special effort to send delegates to the annual conventions or other meetings, and so gaining new inspirations and fresh enthusiasms. These delegates invariably return to their own locals with renewed spirit and with a sense of obligation to pass on their impressions to their fellow members, and the whole year's meetings are more powerful as a result, which makes it well worth the

Both Her Children Subject to CROUP and BRONCHITIS

Mrs. H. Farrell, Windsor, Ont., writes:—"I used to dread the coming of winter as both my children were subject to croup and bronchitis."

"My baby was so bad with bronchitis I had to keep her in a sitting position all night long or she would have smothered."

"The other child had bronchitis and croup continually until I read about

BABY'S OWN SOAP

Famed for its fragrant creamy lather
Best for you and baby too.

Its improvement has been talked of for a long time, nothing much has been done. I don't think any of us would choose to be buried there if we had any say in the matter. We need a public drinking trough for horses, who suffer from thirst as much as we do, but say less about it.

We need—ah, how sorely—a Sunday school or some premises set apart for the religious instruction of the children and as a reminder to parents of their spiritual obligations.

Some of our members have the opinion that the Women's Institute is a better organization than the U.F.W.A. If it is, it is only because the members have made it better. We can learn many lessons from them as we read the brief reports of their meetings and notice their different activities, over how wide a field they are spread, so that each member has some appeal to her own individuality. Every farm paper contains some reference to their community work. I say it is work that our U.F.W.A. can do just as well if we make up our minds to it. If we were to put in the same thought, work and enthusiasm that some of its members do, our own institution would be equally effective and worthwhile. The instant we become apologetic towards our association we become weak, but if we believe in it and boost it we strengthen both it and ourselves.

We must be idealists, and our great wedding force must be patriotism, not the kind that shouts and applauds at election times and talks glibly about things it knows little of, but the kind that thinks imperially and that seeks out the greatest good for the commonwealth. While we are working for our own community, we are working for our country, and though we are working for our own day, we are working for all time. Therefore, whatever our hands find to do, let us do it with all our might, each doing her part in her own way, but all with the common aim of making our town into a better place, and Canada a better country for those who come after us.

We must also aim to be useful to our community, and here let me suggest a few specific ways in which my ideal U.F.W.A. can accomplish that. It can help the settlers in our midst. Some of them were met at the station and conducted to their new homes with great speech and ceremony—and that was the end of it in many cases! Whatsoever we must cultivate the habit of contributing something to the matters that are brought up in our meetings. To discuss a thing well makes us understand it better, bringing out the various aspects of the subject discussed as well as training us to focus our thoughts. Controversy is useless, because we seldom try to see the other side of the question, but discussion is useful as it makes us try to see the other side.

Whether they have or have not been too hard work for us, to make such newcomers who live nearest her, to visit them—not to criticize or condemn, but to help in any way to make them contented and happy; to give them a little advice if they need it, a great deal of sympathy and encouragement; to try, in fact, to do anything that will make the first hard year full of pleasant memories of kindness and neighborliness.

We need a rest room in our town, where women visitors and shoppers can rest at any time and in which we could hold our different meetings. Our cemetery is about the bleakest spot one could imagine, and although

HILLSIDE

The regular meeting of the U.F.W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. H. Young on Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 26th, instead of the 6th. After the regular business was transacted the rest of the afternoon was spent in social enjoyment. This included a presentation to Mrs. Turnbull of a casserole as a token of esteem from the members. Mrs. Turnbull, who has been an active worker in all social events of this district, will be greatly missed.

Mrs. Hamilton of Conjugate Creek, was a Sunday visitor in the district.

The November meeting of the U.F.W.A. will be held at the home of Mrs. H. Marr on Thursday afternoon, the 2nd. "Christmas Gift Suggestions" will be the roll call, and an interesting program has been arranged. All ladies are welcome.

ONLY A SET-BACK

The fire which wiped out a large section of the business district of Millet was a disaster, but not a fatality. The town will rebuild its ruined business places, probably on a more substantial pattern. Other Alberta towns have suffered like catastrophes, but they did not perish because of them. Millet will do as they did, rebuild, and go on doing business at the old stand. It is the trading centre of a large and prosperous district, and the conditions which caused a town to be established there will cause it to re-establish itself. Alberta towns may be burned, but they spring up again, for they are the product of a soil which has not lost its fertility. —Edmonton Bulletin.

PONOKA OPENS NEW CHURCH
The United Church in Ponoka has made great alterations in their church buildings. The former Presbyterian church is remodelled and has now a beautiful auditorium and a commodious Sunday school apartment. The former Methodist church is remodelled into a gymnasium for the use of the community.

On Sunday, Oct. 30, the new church was opened and duly dedicated. The minister, Rev. J. B. Francis was assisted by Rev. Thomas Powell. On the following Monday there was a thanksgiving festival, including a banquet, concert and lecture. The people responded most heartily, coming in great crowds to all the services, and the whole contributed a notable experience in the history and development of Ponoka.
